

I live in Santa Barbara. Recent changes by the FCC has allowed 7 of the 11 radio stations (7 of 9 in English) to be owned by one conglomerate. Now, there is less news content and more conservative viewpoints. THis is NOT healthy. Cross ownership of media firms will further this consolidation of viewpoints into ever richer and richer individuals. America is supposed to encourage different viewpoints -- crossover will lead to less diversity of viewpoints.

Carmen A. Lodise